

Alvin Wayne Black

October 7, 1949 - October 27, 2024

Alvin Wayne Black, age 75, died Sunday, October 27, 2024.

Born on October 7, 1949 in Quitman, Georgia- he filled his time on Earth here with many things. He was a truck driver, an auctioneer, a lover of the outdoors, and most importantly a dad. He always tried to be the best dad he could be and he loved his family wholeheartedly. He was unique in his own way- some may say he was “rough around the edges”, but those that know him know that he would give anyone the shirt off his back. He would go without- if it means someone else would have what they needed. He had a strong personality- you knew what he was thinking and he was a give it to you straight type of guy.- and when he had his mind on something- there was nothing that could stand in his way. He had a gift of being able to take nothing and turn it into something. He would spend hours working on cars and could get any old car back going- he was a hard worker, even in hot South Georgia- if you asked his how it felt outside- he’d say “just right” and get to work. While cars were his hobby- the outdoors was his love. The highlight of his career would be when he was working at FL Rock Industry- working as the caretaker of the hunting club. When he was in nature- whether that be hunting, fishing, or caring for the land- he was his happiest. He was a true lover of the outdoors.

Survivors include his sons- Keith (Julie) Black, Travis Black, and Bryan Black, grandchildren- Whitney Black, Dawson Black, Kaleb Black, and Madelyn Black, one sister- Carol Kernan, and two brothers- Peter Pierce and Gary Black.

Alvin was preceded in death by his mother- Jane Barclay, two brothers- Paul Pierce and Fred Barclay, and his four legged best friend for 13 years- his dog Sammy.
