

James Michael Weldon

February 5, 1947 - June 24, 2025

James “Mike” Michael Weldon, 78, passed away on June 24, 2025 in Sylvester, Georgia.

He was born on February 5, 1947 to the late Edward and Shirley Greene Weldon. He served his country in the Army and spent many years working with Greyhound Bus line. While working with the bus line- Mike had the opportunity to experience different states- moving all around the South East states. He enjoyed what he did and kept in touch with the bus line even after retiring- calling every morning to make sure the buses were on schedule and in order. After retiring and relocating to Sylvester, he became the “official” neighborhood watchman, keeping check on his family and friends close by. He was a quiet man, but he loved a good phone call. He could be found watching Western movies, playing old movie trivia, and eating-, especially his favorite- Waffle House.

Survivors include his son- Kyle Basko, granddaughter- Kate Basko, special neighbors- Tracy & Adrienne Hobby and children, and a special cousin- Regina Harkins.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by a brother- Mitchell Weldon.

A private family service will be held at a later time.
