

Jennifer Nicole Holsenbeck

August 18, 1994 - August 18, 2025

Jennifer (Jenna) Holsenbeck, a beloved daughter, mother, and sister, passed away on her 31st birthday, August 18, 2025, in Tifton, Georgia.

She grew up attending Tifton schools. After building a life in Nashville, she returned to her hometown a couple of years ago. During her time in Nashville, she worked as an industrial seamstress. Halloween was her favorite holiday and she was amazingly talented at creating costumes for her children.

More than anything, Jennifer cherished her role as a mother to her four children: Brayden (13), Teaghan (11), Kyleigh (9), and her youngest, Stevie Rae (2 months). Her memory will be treasured by her mother, Cynthia Holsenbeck, her brother, Waylon Holsenbeck Jr, and her sister, Dezaraie Ray.

She was reunited in passing with her maternal grandmother, Patricia Hampton, whom she loved very much.

A celebration of life will be announced at a later date.

“ Im not sure if even know where to begin. Jen was my best friend. We met through winfab where we both worked and we instantly clicked. She was an amazing person inside and out and taught me to be myself and not care who watched. I am going to miss our late night video chats and the random times she would be in town and wanted to see me. I love you jen, save me a seat in heaven.
