“ Wishing you peace to bring a little comfort, courage to face the days ahead, and loving memories to hold forever in your heart. She was a special lady and had such a beautiful smile. God Bless you!

“ I will always remember our talks about everything and nothing in particular. :) Thank you for teaching me valuable life lessons even if some of those lessons came with a shoe across my behind. You taught me how to crochet and quilt and make the best biscuits. It seemed silly at the time but I know that they are memories I will always cherish. The kids remember sitting and watching movies with you and playing outside at your house. I know that you are in a place with no pain or sickness anymore and I hope that one day we can all join you and be a full family again. We love and miss you terribly and we will see you again one day.
