“ *Keith walked softly upon the earth; his many gifts and strengths often unrecognized. A gentle, loving spirit on a rugged, unsparing path. Whenever the way became too dark, he became a light. He loved simply, quietly but powerfully, and was loved in return far more than he may have realized. His joys in life were almost child-like in the purity of his delight and eagerness to share. He left us as he lived - in quiet peace, but the absence of his presence is everywhere.
You are beyond the horizon now, my beloved brother,
...but home at last.

“ My sisters soulmate for over 30 years. Keith was a wonderful, kind hearted man. After the unexpected loss of my sister two years ago, Keith struggled with the grief and loss of the love of his life. He fought to find happiness again but found it very difficult. I'm glad that him and my sister are together once again. His grief and heartache is now over. Your family and friends miss you. Fly high my friend. ❤️
