“ Michael was the most faithful friend you could ever hope for . When he loved you there was nothing he wouldn't do to help you. His love and friendship extended to my entire family. Whether it was taking my aunt to the grocery or moving Nana's furniture or going with us when we took Daddy to shands... he was always there for the hard times as well as the fun. And what fun we had! Michael could light up a room with his laugh. And knew how to laugh at himself. What a blessing to have had him as my friend. I will always treasure his memory.
