William Chambers III Obituary

William "Wise" Chambers passed away at age 44, although he had a rough start with life after the early passing of both parents, God surely showed him that his purpose would still come via creating his own legacy. Wise surely lived with extreme grace and charisma as he navigated through past traumas from his childhood. He had some wonderful experiences with some family members that tried to help him heal, uncle Reggie he spoke of often, and Robin who loved him as well as some of the younger generation of cousins who kept in touch (you know who you are). Coming from a family that got sick easily and eventually most passed away at an early age, he ended up in foster care/ group homes where he met some lifelong friends that changed his life. As he got into his adulthood and experienced this crazy world, he ended up in the most beautiful state ever; the sunshine state of South Florida--thanks to a friend that he considered more like a brother, Abu. South Florida is where we would say he grew his wings and became who he wanted to be, or at least a version of that from what he told us. From the stories we've heard, Florida brought him a lot of joy because this is where he found his soul mate, then had more children to complete the seven (our blended-mixed-Bradey bunch). From his perspective, Florida also brought him the love and family he was craving for years, he met his wife and created this humongous beautiful family. He was always planning getaways for us to get together as a family! He also lived out his dream of entrepreneurship via his businesses Wise Choice

Security and Wise Choice Services LLC. From cousins, brothers, sisters, etc.. he taught us family is the most important, not with words either but through his actions, showing us how to build a legacy and create memories that last a lifetime!

Advantageous and Adventurous are some words that would be used to describe Wise, our Dad. Advantageous, specifically because he promoted/ contributed to the development of who we are based on his experiences to ensure we had a better life. Dad helped us see that people will love us no matter what we go through, helping us to love people unconditionally as well. Adventurous, because since he entered our lives he has always had us doing something new or exciting monthly and if not monthly; yearly. With Dad showing us new things all the time, it's made it easier to get through life because he showed us that uncomfortableness reveals beautiful things that you can never imagine until you try! His faith was such an amazing thing to watch him grow into throughout the years. Jesus did bring his soul peace and showed him a better way, you could see it in his personality and his actions. No one's perfect but you don't have to be perfect to love others and accept love! We loved that he always tried no matter what and even till the very end. Until his last days, he was sharing the great knowledge that he found from within and through his faith. "I feel in a way my dad was a master of life, he loved it fully and beautifully. I love you always, may you enjoy your next journey, Papa." - Jada

William "Wise" Chambers also called "Billy" was survived by his soul mate and wife of 15 years, DeeAnna Aronoff-Chambers. He is also survived by children; Natia, Victor, Jada, Jaydun, Jordan, Janette, and Samantha. He also had one grandson Noah. His in-laws became mom and dad, Craig and Sheryl. He also had 17 godchildren with his wife. He is survived by many members of his bloodline, cousins, aunts, and uncles who will miss him dearly as well as many wonderful close friends. If you met Wise, you know why he earned that name. Now he is resting peacefully looking over all of us and talking with God about us!

“ Your uncle and I were happy to make Wise's acquaintance. He was polite and respectful and he loved to cook. His was my first sweet potato pie. We enjoyed spending time with him and having the times we shared life together. I wish he were still here; but am so grateful that I will see him again some day..
